Waheguru Ji Ka Khalsa

Waheguru Ji Ki Fateh

You are well aware of the Samanta Social- Emotional Learning Programme which is going on in 40 Akal Academies in Collaboration with the Yale University.

This pilot project is nearing its culmination, and so, it is time that the control group shared the vital data to facilitate completion of the research.

You are, therefore, requested to make available to this office the contact number and the e-mail id of the teachers managing the control group by May 14, 2020 so that the requisite questionnaire could be shared with them online. This would also save time helping the teachers in case they come across any difficulty.

Give it top priority.

Sincerely

Dr. Neelam Kaur

Sub: Webinars by Oxford University Press

With your experience in providing online education you must have realised that it has added new dimensions to the teaching profession.

New issues pertaining to behavioral aspect have surfaced during 57 days of lockdown. Children have not been able to cope with the forced curtailment of activities due to closure of schools. This problem is acute with children in nucleus families.

Oxford University Press has brought to us Webinars on topics like: 'Improving the Mental Health of Students in the time of Covid-19'. The details are attached for your convenience.

I believe attending these webinars would be enriching experience. Please share the details with your teachers and direct them to avail the opportunity.

Please note that they have a new platform for hosting the webinars – Click Meeting, which can only accommodate 1000 participants per webinar. Hence, they have got two set of dates for each of the three webinars. In case teachers are unable to join to the live webinars, they can view the Facebook Premieres, the details of which are available in the presentation and what's app creatives.
